Airport, Highway Construction To Spur Area Progress--Ogilvie

(Picture on Page 5)
Airport, highway and construction progress will rescue this region from "the economic doldrums," Illinois Governor Richard B. Ogilvie forecast at the 57th anniversary dinner meeting of the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities Thursday night.
Illinois has not been as hard hit by the 1970 recession as most states and should make more rapid and complete recovery than other states during the early 1970s, the governor said.
He was principal speaker at the Manufacturers dinner, held at the Echo Country Club in St. Louis County, President Paul Kemp presided and Vice-President Richard Lich introduced the speaker. Kemp is president of the association since 1945 and Schweighauser since 1947.
Directors chosen for 1971 were Kenneth Lich, B. J. Hunter of Miles Laboratories, Robert Schuessler of Nestle, A. P. Steinhauser of American Steel Foundries, Dale Fahrenndorf of Lipsett Steel Products, Fred A. Eichorn of National Lead, Lyle F. Guiley of Granite City Steel Co. and John McCammon of Laclede Steel.
William F. Hoelscher, general manager and secretary, reviewed the past year.
Gov. Ogilvie told the gathering that "the first important element in our direct approach to government is an honest assessment of the problem, a willingness to face harsh reality without flinching."
"It was in that spirit, for example, that we recognized our highway system was wholly inadequate to the needs of a great industrial state, and that we would have to spend hundreds of millions of dollars to improve it."
"It was in that spirit that we recognized the plight of our local governments, and realized we would have to provide them with vast infusions of unrestricted state funds to keep them strong and effective."
"Getting closer to home, it was in that same kind of frank assessment which led us to conclude that the existing St. Louis air facilities simply were not adequate for the growing needs of a great metropolitan area."
"Acting on that assessment, we faced yet another reality—that the logical site for a new airport would be in Illinois."
"That conclusion was not reached lightly. In reaching it, we assumed the burden of a $400 million responsibility which will tax to the limits our planning, engineering and management resources for ten years to come."
"But we did it because there was no responsible alternative—and because we are convinced the new airport can help rescue the entire area from the economic doldrums."
"By the same token, it was that same kind of assessment which led us to allocate more money for the highway needs of your area than any other comparable section of the state."
The governor noted, "As a result of our approach, we will pour $80 million into building interstate 64 across the state, and we will move toward providing you direct access to interstate 70 and downtown St. Louis by way of the Great River."

Three Firemen Injured as Blaze Guts Downtown Area Apartments

By MARION BARTOSIAK and GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writers
Three families were burned out of their apartments and three firemen were injured as flames gutted a four-family frame house at 2120 Delmar Ave. Friday afternoon.
Left homeless were Mrs. Beatrice Lindsey and her five children, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Grap, and their three children, and the family of Donna Boaz. The fourth apartment was unoccupied as it was being remodeled. The families lost all their possessions.
Cause of the fire was undetermined by the Fire Department which estimated the loss to the building at $13,000 and to the contents at $2,500. Owner of the building is Joel J. Joseph. Loss to a neighboring building at 2116 Delmar Ave., occupied by Claudia Bennett and owned by Bernard Sobol, was estimated at $500.
Pipeman Jim Strack was injured when he fell through a hole in the hallway floor and into the basement. He reportedly landed on his hands and knees, injuring his right wrist. Pipeman Robert Bell saw Strack fall, reached through the hole and held onto Strack's hand while he summoned help. Capt. Raymond "Speed" Romine grabbed a rope and ran into the hallway to pull Strack up.
Pulled from Hole
Bell and Romine pulled Strack from the hole and assisted him out of the building but when they reached the front porch, Romine lost consciousness because of too much smoke.
Romine was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital for treatment. Another fireman in the ambulance said he did not regain consciousness until after they reached the hospital. Romine, 43, of 2561 Cleveland Blvd., was revived with oxygen in the emergency room and was released after a series of X-rays were taken. He then reported back to duty at the firehouse at 3 p.m.
About one hour after the fire was extinguished, Capt. Lester Nash began complaining of nausea and weakness and was taken to the hospital. In the emergency room he was treated for smoke inhalation and was admitted for observation.
Complains of Pain
Strack, who was revived at the scene with a portable inhalator, complained of pain in his wrist for several hours after the fire but declined hospital treatment.
Firemen said that the hole through which Strack fell had apparently been left there since the remodeling of the staircase, probably a number of years ago. Strack was apparently unable to see the hole because of the dense smoke in the hallway.
The house reportedly burned so rapidly that none of the occupants was able to save any clothing and furnishings, but firemen say none of the residents was injured.
Watching Television
Nelson Lindsey, St. Louis, Mrs. Lindsey's former husband, said he was watching television in the living room of the first floor apartment when Mrs. Lindsey called him.

City Election Contests Develop in All Wards

Opposition for the office of Granite City street superintendent and all of the seven aldermanic posts subject to election this year developed today amid changing election schedules under which the Granite City municipal election will constitute the only election to be held on April 6—the first Tuesday of the month.
For the first time in recent history, Granite City voters will "go it alone" without accompanying elections on the same day by Granite City township and the Granite City Park District. In previous years all three elections were held on the same date—always on the first Tuesday of April—with many voters required to ballot in three separate precincts if they wanted to vote in all three elections.
This year, however, the Granite City Park District will hold its election on the third Tuesday of April under an ordinance adopted by the Park Board. The new schedule will set the Granite City Park District election on April 20, the same date as municipal elections in the cities of Madison and Venice and the village of Pontoon Beach.
No Township Election
In addition, there will be no township election in Granite City this year as the result of a ruling by the Illinois attorney general that incumbent assistant supervisors will continue as holdover town officers until June, 1972 when redistricting will cut the county board membership to 29.
Since Granite City was not scheduled to hold a township election this year, and no highway commissioner is elected in the

Labor, Business, Youth Will Unite March 6 for Progress Action Forum

There are theories that Americans ought to abandon their present communities and start entirely new cities far away. But many Quad-Cityans think their home area is good enough to keep intact, and that it can be made even more ideal through joint improvement efforts by people of all walks of life.
"No one person or group has all the answers, but together we can find answers and achieve them," one of those helping plan a March 6 Congress of Community Progress commented today.
The "we" includes labor, youth, the professions, government and business—a full cross-section of this community.
"Giant Suggestion Box"
The Community Progress Congress in effect will open up a giant suggestion box, into which every local resident, employee and visitor will have an opportunity to submit what they think this area needs in order to provide a better way of life.
Suggestions are to pinpoint a problem and also a possible solution to it. They should refer to one or more of six categories of concern—ecology, health, housing, planning, government and education.
Outstanding resource persons will be present at the March 6 all-day session at area in focus- ing discussions on practical remedial steps. Each discussion group will include those for, those against, and those uncommitted to specific proposals or issues.
Gene H. Sternberg Sr. is chairman and the steering committee will be present at the March 6 session at 5 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 6.
"A Thurbur Carnival" is a staged anthology in revue form of some of the most zany short stories, fables, childhood recollections and cartoons that first appeared in "The New Yorker" magazine, and later in a long series of books, by the man called by "Time" Magazine "the most splendidly mad of modern humorists."
The revue is a calling of 30 years of Thurbur satires on a world in which everyone is, to some extent, out of his mind. "Time" called it "the most wonderful." The "uniquely wonderful" group hopes to earn a similar appraisal here Saturday.
Success on Broadway
When it was first presented in New York in 1960, "A Thurbur Carnival" achieved an overwhelming success and proved that the Thurburian mixture of deadpan humor, imagination and intelligence can be as funny when spoken as when read.
Jim Swanick, Frank Joachimsthal, Chuck Norris, Jay Frey, Kathy Fields, Gail Joachimsthal, Marcella Zaganelli and Diane Nocheff will compose the cast which will be released after a series of X-rays were taken. He then reported back to duty at the firehouse at 3 p.m.
About one hour after the fire was extinguished, Capt. Lester Nash began complaining of nausea and weakness and was taken to the hospital. In the emergency room he was treated for smoke inhalation and was admitted for observation.

Bomb Detonators Found in Venice; Man is Injured

A Terminal Railroad engineer was injured when he picked up a strange object along the railroad tracks south of Fourth Street in Venice Thursday afternoon and it exploded in his hand.
James Hutchins, 47, of St. Louis, was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital with a puncture wound to his hand after the mishap. An unidentified man accompanied him to the hospital emergency room with a small object which he said was similar to the one Hutchins had picked up. Hospital officials evacuated the emergency waiting room until the object was removed.
The object was described as triangular in shape, about two inches on each side and about one and one-half inches thick and was made of metal with a pin along one side.
Captain Henry Hodge, a special agent for the railroad, said that about 70 of the metal objects were found along the tracks. When asked if they had fallen from a railroad car a spokesman said, "It is assumed that they did."
Capt. Hodge put the articles in the trunk of his car and took them to the Venice police station where the U. S. Army 50th Ordnance Detachment at the Granite City Army Depot was informed of the incident. Members of the bomb squad were sent to the police department to take charge of the objects.
They removed the explosives from the trunk of Hodge's car and disarmed them, according to Venice Police Chief Ralph Brawley. The bomb experts refused to identify the items and took them to the Army Depot. They also went to the hospital and recovered one which had been taken there.
The Army said Friday that the devices are called bomblets and are used by the Air Force. They said information as to their origin and destination is "classified."
An Air Force spokesman said

INJURED FIREMEN are helped from the scene of a fire at 2120 Delmar Ave. Friday after being overcome by smoke. In the group to the right of the ambulance stretcher, Fire Chief Earl Fronbarger and another fireman carry unconscious Capt. Raymond Romine to the stretcher while the group near the door of the ambulance truck assists Pipeman Jim Strack to the portable inhalator unit. Also overcome by smoke was Capt. Lester Nash. ## General Steel Loss $1.11 Per Share in 1970

General Steel Industries, Inc., had a net loss of $2,788,000, or $1.11 per share of common stock, in 1970 compared with net income of $3,269,000, or $1.30 per share, in 1969, W. Ashley Gray, Jr., president, reported Friday.

The 1970 results included extraordinary and non-recurring losses of $584,000, or 20 cents per share, resulting from the anticipated closing, disposal and relocation of several unprofitable or marginally profitable operations both domestic and foreign. The Board of Directors took no action on a dividend for the first quarter of 1971.

Mr. Gray announced several months ago that GSI was sustaining a loss on its second half 1970 operations and was not expected to return to profitable operations until volume shipments begin in the second quarter of 1971 on two large orders for rapid transit and commuter cars.

GSI had net sales in 1970 of $80,238,000 compared with $154,500,000 in 1969. Mr. Gray said that "the principal reason for our disappointing showing in 1970 was an 87% decline in sales at the St. Louis Car Division, our largest operating division."

St. Louis Car did not deliver a single new rapid transit or commuter car last year while in 1969 this division delivered over 500 cars and accounted for about half the sales volume of the entire company, Gray said. In addition, the Car Division incurred serious losses on the manufacture of new non-transit products lines during 1970.

"While 1970 was a very disappointing year, the consolidated balance sheet at year-end presented a sound financial position and the company has an excellent order backlog."

GSI's order backlog at Dec. 31, 1970 was $139,881,000 and included orders for 352 subway cars for the New York City Transit Authority and 130 high-speed commuter cars for the Chicago South Suburban Mass Transit District. Deliveries on both orders are scheduled to begin in a few months and will extend through mid-1972.

General Steel Industries, Inc., operates 20 plants in the United States and abroad and supplies a wide range of industrial and other markets. Corporate headquarters are in St. Louis.

Coroner Identifies Victim of Crash

The woman who was killed in a crash on the McKinley Bridge Thursday morning was identified this weekend by Madison County Deputy Coroner Edward Werner as Mrs. Larrar M. Biggs, 62, of St. Louis.

Mrs. Biggs, who ran a rooming house in St. Louis, died after the auto in which she and a St. Louis man were riding struck the superstructure at the west end of the bridge.

The driver of the auto, Merle D. Higbee, 40, who was injured in the crash, allegedly refused to give police the name of his woman passenger and an investigation was necessary to identify her.

Candidate Files for Levee Board Election

John Mangiaracino, Venice, filed petitions in the office of County Clerk Eralia Hotz Friday afternoon as a candidate for trustee of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District board. Mangiaracino, a Republican precinct committeeman in Venice, was the only candidate to file petitions Friday.

The filing period for the special primary and runoff election ends at 5 p.m. tomorrow. Miss Hotz said three other sets of petition forms have been obtained by other persons who declined to identify the prospective candidates.

Governor Richard Ogilvie has called a special election with a primary on May 4 and the runoff election on June 22. A Supreme Court ruling on court proceedings involving the question of whether or not the present four levee board trustees shall remain in office could interfere with plans for the election.

Vadalabene on Four Major Illinois Senate Committees

State Senator Sam Vadalabene (D, Edwardsville), who last week was named vice-chairman of the key Senate Committee on Appropriations, also has been named to the Agriculture and Conservation Committee, the Transportation Committee and the Committee on Welfare.

He was elected as a senator in November after two terms in the Illinois House. "The Appropriations Committee is known as the hardest working committee of the Senate," Vadalabene has commented. "It will be this committee which will have to review Governor Ogilvie's expected $5 billion budget, item by item."

"The budget will be presented to the public and to the General Assembly March and Extensive public hearings of committee will begin soon thereafter, continuing into May and June."

The Committee on Transportation will deal with measures relating to mass transit, motor vehicles and highways.

Environment, Recreation The Committee on Welfare will deal with mental health, public aid, public health and related matters. The Committee on Agriculture and Conservation will consider matters relating to pollution, the environment, parks, recreation and agriculture.

Sen. Vadalabene told the Press-Record, "I look forward to a long, productive and hard-working session. Expectations are that from 5,000 to 7,000 bills will be introduced and that the session will continue most of the year."

"No one knows for sure at this time how much work that the adoption of the new State Constitution will generate, but it will be considerable."

Travelers Urged to Obtain Passports Now

Persons or groups planning trips abroad during the approaching travel season are being urged to apply for passports now by the office of Willard Portell, clerk of the circuit court.

Portell pointed out that during the low-volume season obtaining a passport may take more than a week, and during the peak volume season it can take longer. After the traveler receives his passport, he may need from two weeks to six months to obtain visas from countries he plans to visit.

An applicant should have his birth certificate with raised seal, two 2 1/2x3 1/2-inch photos and identification papers. Naturalized citizens must present their naturalization certificates. Applications are being processed at the clerk's offices in Granite City, the Edwardsville Courthouse and at Alton.

Hillside Drainage Planning Funds in U.S. Budget Bill

An appropriation of $500,000 to continue planning of the sorely needed Hillside Drainage flood control project in Madison and St. Clair counties is included in budget recommendations for the new fiscal year starting July 1, Congressmen Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) reported at Washington Friday.

Cong. Price said the budget items include a total of $15,425,000 for six area flood control projects.

Fourteen million-nine hundred thousand dollars is recommended in fiscal year 1972 to continue construction of the mammoth Kaskaskia River navigation project; $300,000 for the Hillside Drainage planning; $1,000,000 carry over from the fiscal year 1971 budget for the Mississippi River regulating works to maintain the navigational channel; $200,000 to continue construction of the Chain of Rocks navigation lock; $1,500,000 to continue planning of the massive Alton navigation local and dam No. 26 project and $25,000 to continue study of the Silver Creek watershed and reservoir project.

Price said he will appear before the House Appropriations Subcommittee on Public Works in support of the projects. No definite timetable has been established for the hearings but in the past Members of Congress usually testify in May or June on the public works appropriations bill.

Each Citizen Worth More on Tax Form

Each citizen is worth more on his Federal tax return this year.

The Tax Reform Act of 1968 increased the value of the personal exemption. For 1970, $625 is allowed for each exemption. Last year, the deduction was $600.

Each individual is entitled to claim a personal exemption for himself. If he is over 65 years of age, another exemption is allowed. An additional exemption is available if the person is blind.

In most instances, taxpayers can claim an exemption for their spouse. The age and blindness extra exemptions can also be claimed for a spouse.

A dependency exemption is allowed also for each dependent. Generally, a dependent is a person related by blood or marriage, who receives his or her chief support from the taxpayer. There is a gross income limitation of $625 for claiming dependents other than the taxpayer's children under 19 or who are full-time students.

The Tax Act makes one change in claiming foster children. A foster child can be claimed as a dependent on the same terms as an adopted or natural child, if he lives with the taxpayer and is a member of the household for one entire year.

In determining support, these items are included: the cost of food, shelter, medical and dental care, clothing, education, and similar necessities. An exemption is allowed when the taxpayer furnishes over half of the total cost of the dependent's support for the entire year.

When you file your 1970 return, remember to claim $625 for yourself, your spouse, and each dependent you list on the Form 1040.

Slavic Friends of SIU-SW Planning a 'Kaffee Besada'

Slavic and East European Friends of SIU-SW will hold a "Kaffee Besada" at 2:30 p.m. Feb. 7 in the Lovejoy Library auditorium. President John Spiller of St. Louis is inviting the public admission free.

Each year, the group provides two honors awards at SIU-SW and is establishing a loan fund for its students of Slavic descent.

More than 9,000 books and other publications have been presented to Lovejoy Library through SAEF, organized officially in March 1968 "to maintain an association of interested persons to preserve and foster Slavic and East European culture and tradition in the U. S."

According to the library's director, John Abbott, the collection is one of the largest of its kind in this country.

Eight women of this area—seven of Polish and one of Macedonian descent—have been rehearsing since December to entertain at the Besada (party) with Polish dances.

The same group, with one exception, first performed together in 1944 when the Foreign Language Society, comprising Hattie Turski Mulnik (Mrs. Sigmund) of Venice is the eighth dancer. Her daughter, Barbara, who teaches at Blair School, Madison, will accompany the dancers on the accordion.

Mrs. M. J. Hill of Granite City, who is in charge of arrangements for the party, is asking those who have books or other items pertaining to Slavic and East European history and culture to donate them to the group.

Schweizer rounded up the girls this fall and asked if they would be willing to "bone up" Lovejoy Library collection.

MORE ABOUT Bomb

the bomblets were part of a fragmentation type weapon and serve as a detonator for fragmentation bombs. There is a small amount of powder in each detonator, but it could be sufficient to injure, blind or even kill any one close to one if it exploded.

The bomblets are usually set in a pie shape cluster and the fragmentation bombs are loaded in the front of the device so that when it is fired, the bombs are thrown out and explode, sending out hundreds of small pieces of metal, the Air Force said.

Until several weeks ago the existence of the bomblets was "so classified" it was ridiculous," an Army spokesman said Friday.

A report Friday that nine of the bomblets were missing, without basis, according to Army, Air Force, railroad officials and the Venice Police Department.

Venice Hits Century Mark Over Valmeyer

The Venice High School basketball squad experienced no difficulties in defeating Valmeyer here Friday night 100 to 76.

With three minutes left in the game Venice put the reserves in, confident of victory with their 30-point lead. The reserves were credited with only one basket in that time, but that put Venice on the 100 point mark, with 40 seconds left in the game.

The halftime score showed Venice leading by 11, 53-42, and in the second half the lead was increased to 24 points.

Both clubs played poorly defensively and Venice fouled often but won handily.

Venice will be required to exert more effort than they showed Friday at Freeburg Tuesday night if they are going to hope to return home victorious. Freeburg is expected to play pattern ball and freeze the game, waiting for the good shots, which will demand that Venice exert themselves to control the play.

Coolidge 9th Moves Into Tie For 1st

The Coolidge Junior High School 9th grade cagers moved into a tie for first place in the Madison County Junior High Conference with rival Collinsville North after defeating them Tuesday night in the Coolidge gymnasium.

The victory was credited to a basket in the last 10 seconds of the game on a throw from Mike Martinez to Dale Williams.

The happiness was short lived, however, as a foul against the Braves was called and the son of Collinsville's legendary coach, Virgil Fletcher, moved into the free throw circle on a 1 and 1 situation.

The first toss missed and the Braves were quick to take the rebound and hold the ball until the horn sounded, giving them the victory and a share of the first place spot.

Simpson Maintains 15.6 Game Average

Gary Simpson of Granite City, a guard on the Louisiana State University basketball team, maintained a 15.6 point average going into Saturday's game against the Ole Miss Rebels.

She was shooting: 442 from the field and 736 from the free-throw line as LSU compiled an 8.5 overall record so far this season.

Table Tennis Champs Plan Clinic Here

Two well-known table tennis champions will conduct a clinic at 10 a.m. Saturday in the recreation room of the Madison Memorial Center, Seventh and Lee streets, Madison, if they are going to return home victorious.

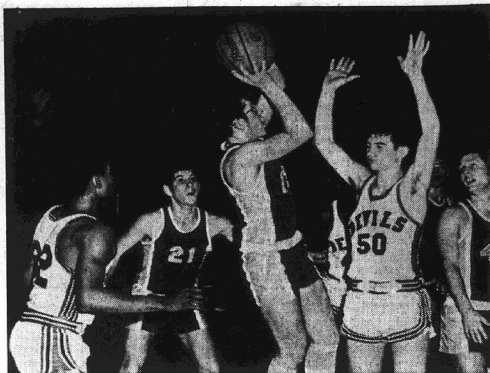

Freeburg is expected to play pattern ball and freeze the game, waiting for the good shots, which will demand that Venice exert themselves to control the play.

Conducting the clinic will be Larry Chisholm and Bob Cawley, who will compete in a three-game series in which the pair will demonstrate techniques of the recreational sport.

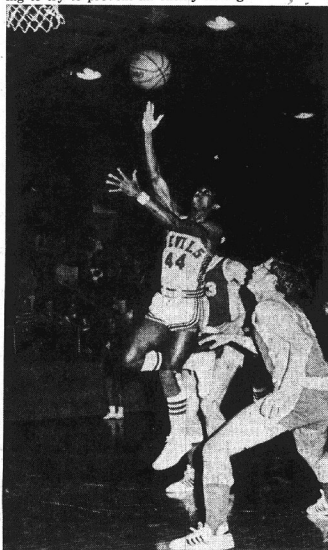

Chisholm, the current Missouri State Champion, Missouri Valley Champion and St. Louis Champion, has remained undefeated in three years. Cawley, his opponent Saturday, is Southern Illinois University Champion. He also won championship status in the Quincy '81 tournament and is the current Peoria Men's Champion.

Kopchak said the clinic is open to all Madison residents interested in table tennis.

A series of special table tennis sessions for fifth through eighth grade level boys and girls began at the Madison Memorial Center the past Saturday. Sessions are planned each Saturday from 10 a.m. till noon, for the next several weeks, the director said.

DEFENSE AS WELL AS OFFENSE highlighted 100-76 Venice victory over Valmeyer Friday. Red Devils Ray Mosby (32) and Jim Ohlendorf (50) combining to try to prevent an enemy field goal.

Cougar's Bow 119-85 to Tenn. State In Home Tilt

Bids to post-season basketball tournaments sponsored by the National Collegiate Athletic Association's college division are determined, naturally, by each team's win-loss record, plus the quality of opposition played and total points.

Southern Illinois University-Southern Cougars were the victims Saturday night at the Edwardsville High gym of just what that system works for when they are demolished, 119-85, by fourth-ranked Tennessee State University from Nashville. Less than two weeks ago, Tennessee had beaten Coach Jim Dudley's team, 107-94, at Nashville.

SIU-SW's record now is 12-5, with two of the losses being to the Nashville power house, one to the University of Missouri, St. Louis, one to Culver-Springfield College and one to the University of Wisconsin at Milwaukee. Tennessee State's record is 13-2. The Tigers have lost only to top-ranked Southern University of Baton Rouge, La., and to No. 2 Kentucky State, 91-88, a week ago at Frankfort, Ky.

Except for an early 43-SIU-SW lead, Tennessee's intention to blow the Cougars out of the gym was quite evident as they spurred to a 62-40 first half advantage. Lloyd Neal put on an amazing scoring exhibition with the 24 of his 32 points coming in the first 20 minutes.

His running mate, Ted McClain, also poured in 20 points over the same stretch as the Tigers took advantage of the Cougars' weakness caused by the three fouls on SIU-SW's floor general, Rich Essington.

At the beginning of the second half, hopes of the capacity SIU-SW crowd zoomed briefly as the Cougars, led by Essington and Champ Summers, outscored Tennessee, 10-2. Their hopes were quickly dashed as Essington picked up his fourth foul and the Cougars' center, Gene Bounds, fouled out with ten minutes left.

In fairness to Coach Dudley's Cougars, it must be pointed out, that SIU-SW's far from its physical strength; lost for the remainder of the season is their top-rebounder, 6-6 Jerry Bloomer, because of surgery on his ankle.

Denny Thorneburg, sophomore scoring sensation, has been cut down to just half of his potential by a crippling injury to his left knee, and SIU-SW's biggest player, Jim Brown, has been slowed by an injury to his left foot instep.

Dudley, who could only shake his head following Saturday's loss, didn't look any happier when questioned about his upcoming games: four in six days, starting with Harris Teachers College at SIU-SW Wednesday, Concordia Seminary Friday in St. Louis, North-east Missouri State at Kirksville, Mo., Saturday, and the University of Missouri, St. Louis, at Normandy High next Monday night.

Said Dudley: "Our bench strength carried us in the first half of the season. Now we'll find out just how much desire the physically fit boys have."

Essington and Summers each scored 20 points in the Cougars' loss to Tennessee. SIU-SW's Otis Ward, with 14 points, and John Nelson, who played his third ball at Ritenour High in St. Louis, added eight and put a definite claim on more winning time down the stretch for the Cougars.

Brandt Wins Laurels in Skating Meet

Chris Brandt, 2800 Indiana Ave., a member of the Gateway Skating Club, was runner-up in the National Outdoor Speed Skating Championships in the middle class held during the weekend at St. Paul, Minn.

He scored a first in the one-sixth mile race and a second in the 200-yard event. In the final event, a 440-yard sprint, he finished first, breaking the existing record by six-tenths of a second, but later was disqualified for a technical violation. It cost him the title.

Ed Jacques of St. Louis, another member of the Gateway club, placed third in the 800-yard race for intermediate boys and placed first in the two-mile race, but he also was disqualified for a technical violation.

Another Gateway member, Jim Chapin of St. Louis, was second in the one-sixth mile race and third in the 800-yard event for junior boys.

The club uses the Wilson Park Skating Rink every morning in preparation for state and national meets.

Trojan Cagers Crush Roxana in 83-68 Game

Madison High School's basketball Trojans rolled to an easy 83-68 victory at Roxana Friday night.

Scoring first, Madison's green-and-white men steadily increased their lead, and at the end of the first quarter it was 27-20. At the half it was 44-33 and going into the final stanza, the Trojans led 66-48.

Madison not only led in the scoring department, they also controlled the boards, finishing with 50 rebounds to 19 for Roxana. Douglas Griggs and Clinton Burkhalter, the Trojans' high point men Friday night, were also credited with 15 rebounds each.

7 GC Swimmers Place In U. City 'A' Meet

Seven local YMCA swimmers placed in the annual 'A' meet event, an Amateur Athletic Union sanctioned contest in which competitors must match predetermined qualifying times to be eligible to compete.

The contest took place Saturday and Sunday at the University City Natatorium, with Fergusson-Ritenour YMCA as the host team.

Competing for the first time in the older 13-14 age group, Mark Bueger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bueger, 2128 Lindell Blvd., won a first place award in the 100-yard breaststroke event and a sixth place in the 100-yard freestyle race.

The Bueger youth also captured two third-place ribbons swimming in the 100 and 200-yard breaststroke events in open division competition.

Paddy Jim Baggot, son of Dr. and Mrs. Gerard M. Baggot, 2860 Edison Ave., won four ribbons in the 13-14 age group events, taking a second place ribbon in the 200-yard individual medley; fourth place, 100-yard backstroke; fifth place, 100-yard freestyle; and sixth place, 100-yard butterfly.

Shannon Stocker of St. Louis, who competes with the Granite City Tidal Waves YMCA team, earned a sixth-place ribbon in the 100-yard freestyle for 10-year-olds and under.

Competing in the 11-12 age group events, four girls won a fifth-place ribbon in the medley relay and also a sixth-place ribbon in the freestyle relay. They are Erin Stocker, Connie Hildebrand, Debbie Griffin and Mary Beatty.

Boat Owners Are Surveyed On Gas Taxes

State conservation officials are trying to determine whether their boat programs are receiving their full share of state motor fuel taxes.

Kenneth Gruenewald, boating administrator for the Illinois Department of Conservation, said expansion of the department's boating facilities may hinge in large measure on answers obtained through a questionnaire being sent this month to half of the state's registered boat owners.

The canvass is designed to help conservation officials determine what percentage of state motor fuel taxes comes from gas used in motor boats. Motor fuel taxes finance boat programs as well as highway improvements, but there is doubt now that boating is receiving its full share of these revenues, Gruenewald said.

The questionnaire accompanies renewal applications going to 80,000 mariners whose biennial certificates of watercraft number expire in June.

Gruenewald urged owners to complete the poll and return it promptly. "If our suspicions are correct, the few minutes invested by boat owners in providing the data we need to prove our case will be repaid with more facilities and better

Tickets on Sale for Cage Game of Beauties, Coaches

Tickets are on sale for a benefit basketball game matching a bevy of red-haired beauties and world champion players against coaches from the Granite City school system.

The public event, to be staged at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 10, at Granite City High School Memorial Gymnasium, will be sponsored by Boosters of the Fighting Warriors.

Tony Melichar, Boosters president, today said the All-American Red Heads, queens of big-time basketball and undisputed world champion women's basketball team, will compete with coaches from Coolidge, Fraher and Grigsby Junior High schools and Granite City High.

Students and adults can save 50 cents on each ticket by purchasing them in advance for $1.50, Melichar announced. He said that Friday will be the final day for advance ticket sales, with the admission price raised to $2 if donated at the door.

Bob Patrick, advance sales chairman, said tickets may be obtained from any Booster member or at Graham's Book Store, Trattler Men's Shop, Nameoki Village Shopping Center, Belmore Barber Shop and Viano's Tomboy Store.

Tickets also are available from members of the GCHS Red Pepper's Club and the high and junior high Letterman's Club, Patrick said.

Soccer Team, Fans To Attend Olympics At Munich in '72

The soccer team of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern will play a series of games against German college and university teams in the summer of 1972 if plans under way by the Cougars' coach, Bob Guelker, and Henry T. Ross of SIU-SW's educational division are successful.

Guelker, who has been named coach of the 1972 United States Olympic soccer squad, explained the plan. "We are making arrangements to lease a 707 jet plane and make reservations to take care of 122 fans to take the trip at a total cost of $600. This $600 will provide for the plane fare, hotel and tickets to the Olympic Games at Munich, Germany, Aug. 26 through Sept. 10."

Meals are not included in the $600.

Boss, who is an associate professor, heads SIU-SW's international seminar program of the education division, which will offer a four quarter hour credit course in physical education for those students who wish to take part.

If plans jell for the tour, said Guelker, "I will schedule a series of soccer games for the Cougars team much like our tour of England and Ireland last year."

The $600 trip may be paid in three $200 installments, starting May 1. Additional $200 payments will be due Nov. 1, of

'Saints vs. Sinners' Cage Game Friday

Tri-City Council 1008 of the Knights of Columbus will sponsor its third annual "Saints vs. Sinners" basketball game, at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Namoki School Gym.

In the game area priests will play council officers and committee chairmen. The Saints and Sinners divided the first two games.

All proceeds of the game and of an orchestra dance to follow at the council hall will be donated to Newman Foundations at public universities in Illinois. Last year $500 was raised for the purpose. Tickets for the game are $1 and will be available at the door. The dance will be free.

On the Saints squad will be the Revs. Robert Becker, Daniel Flinn, Larry Boehler, Jim Newman, Martin Mangan, John O'Connell, George Morelock, Kevin Sullivan, Patrick Wright and Sylvester Mick.

The Art Lavette band will play for the dance through the courtesy of Musicians Local 717. John Tritschuh is chairman in charge of the event.

programs in the future," he said.

The gas taxes go into the state Boating Act Fund for use in construction of access areas, marinas, boat launching facilities and to finance law enforcement, boat safety and education programs.

Gruenewald said the Boating Act Fund has been receiving $168,000 per month in motor fuel taxes since July. He said this is double the monthly allocation during the previous seven or eight years and four times the amount allotted when motor fuel tax-sharing began 11 years ago.

However, boating experts contend the fund is entitled to more than $3 million annually, Gruenewald said.

He said the survey form is simple and doesn't require a signature.

The other half of the state's boat-owning population will be surveyed when their two-year certificate expires in 1972, Gruenewald said.

New Health Care Delivery System Sought by Hospitals

In special meetings with Illinois members of Congress this week, hospital representatives said that the health care delivery system must change before any attempt should be made through legislation to guarantee comprehensive health care to all citizens.

Representatives from 57 hospitals across the state were in Washington to discuss problems facing the health care field. Kenneth C. Etcheson, president of the Illinois Hospital Association, headed the delegation, which included, from St. Elizabeth Hospital, Granite City, Lay Advisory Board President C. E. Blankenship and Assistant Administrator Ted Eilerman.

Etcheson, administrator of the Graham Hospital in Canton, said, "Hospitals in Illinois endorse the basic assertion that health care should be made available to all the people as an inherent right."

"But it is fallacious to assume that the new systems of financing through tax dollars will in themselves make the health system more effective or more efficient, or make quality care quickly available to everyone."

The Illinois Hospital Association sent the delegation to the national capital. The association represents a $13 billion-a-year health service industry employing over 145,000 people, one of the largest segments of the Illinois economy.

The delegation was concerned that in discussions of the politically popular idea of guaranteeing comprehensive health services to all citizens, certain important considerations might be overlooked.

A "Bill of Particulars", pin-pointing these concerns, was drawn up. The "Bill" includes:

Incentives for changing the system. Organizations must be created in Illinois capable of meeting the public expectation of health care as an "inherent right."

Sufficient "start-up money" is not available in the private sector to support these new organizations until they can show results. If government wants to be involved in "changing the system," it should be prepared to invest monies in this effort, the statement related.

Increasing the health manpower supply. Increasing the numbers of doctors, nurses, and other health personnel deserves a higher priority than increasing the public demand for their services through a new financing mechanism.

State and federal health programs. Existing federal programs have already strained the capacity of the present manpower pool.

Flexibility in existing health programs. Existing federal programs in health present a totally confusing picture; many are in competition or conflict with each other.

More effective use of available funds could be accomplished through "block grants" to the states. Illinois would then have an opportunity to concentrate on the problems that it believes are most important, using its discretion on how the federal monies should be spent, it was noted.

Medicare and Medicaid reimbursement. Most hospitals have to charge the private, under-48 patient more in order to make up their losses on Medicare and Medicaid.

Illinois hospitals are now developing a community rate review board approach to reimbursements, whereby hospitals would be paid prospectively on the basis of their documented, budgeted needs.

If it would make sense to involve the Illinois Medicare and Medicaid program in this process so that these programs would share fairly in the total costs of operating the hospital system, it was said. At this time, federal law and regulation prevents this involvement.

Control of hospital utilization. The Social Security Administration is discouraging development and use of less expensive alternatives to hospitalization, such as extended care and home health services.

In effect, this is "backing up" patients into the hospital, because they have no other place to get Medicare benefits. There should be more positive encouragement to get Medicare benefits. There should be more positive encouragement to get Medicare benefits.

Continuity of current grant programs. A problem frequently confronting hospitals is that they are actively encouraged and financially aided to initiate new community service commitments. But then, two or three years later, the hospital is left "holding the bag" by the failure of the federal appropriations apparatus to maintain this commitment.

When the federal government cuts off the program, the hospital gets the blame. The hospital representatives strongly urged that any programs developed at the federal level allow maximum discretion at the local level.

The association is a voluntary organization of over 300 hospitals in the state. It acts as the spokesman and program coordinator for hospitals in their interactions with public groups and both voluntary and governmental agencies.

Furniture Store Sued By State for $1,817. A suit for $1,817.27 has been filed by the state against Steinberg Furniture Co. of Granite City in Madison County Circuit Court at Edwardsville.

The complaint alleges that the amount represents unpaid sales taxes and penalties for periods during the past several years. The state also asks $63 interest until the taxes are paid.

Man Given 1-3 Years In Death of Trucker

One of six men charged in the fatal shooting of an Ohio truck driver during the Teamsters Union strike last May was sentenced to one-to-three years in prison Thursday by Associate Circuit Judge Michael Kinney at Edwardsville.

The others were placed on five years probation.

Issued the sentence was Jerry Lambert, 31, of Caseyville, who admitted firing the shot. He was given 30 days to file an appeal, and Judge Kinney delayed the start of the prison term until next Monday as Lambert's wife is to undergo surgery this week.

The six had been charged with murder and later pleaded guilty to reduced charges of voluntary manslaughter.

Placed on probation were Jackson Wofford, 28, of Rural Route One, Roy Miller, 28, of Rural Route One, Frank Nash, 30, of Marshall; Wayne Barnes, 40, of Collinsville; Rosalee Finazzo, 35, of Mount Pleasant; Gary Kistler, 30, of Piquette, Ohio. The shooting occurred on Interstate 70 near Marine.

Pontoon Beach Hears Details on Zoning. A recessed meeting of the Pontoon Beach village board will be held tonight at 7 p.m. proposed new zoning ordinance, to continue discussions of a proposed new zoning ordinance.

Consideration of the zoning program, which has been developed during the past year, was the principal topic of business at the board's regular meeting Thursday night. Don McCasland, chairman of the Zoning Committee, presented details of the ordinance.

The meeting was recessed Thursday until tonight to permit additional phases of the ordinance to be considered.

Rock Breaks Window Daniel Snyder, 2038 Bryan Ave., reported at 9:20 p.m. Thursday that someone threw a rock through the front window of a house at 908 W. 21st St.

R Stimulants And Sedatives. The 'Up' And 'Down' Drugs.

The Stimulants causing today's problems are usually the amphetamines that are illegally purchased under such names as "Bennies, Speed and Pep Pills." The Depressants causing trouble are also illegally purchased under names like "Goof Balls" or "Barbs," and are usually barbiturates.

It is important that these drugs be taken only when prescribed by a physician or dentist. The prescription should be filled in a pharmacy and taken exactly as directed.

Chronic Drug Abuse is usually a symptom of an emotional or mental illness. Experimental drug users need information on the dangers. The next of these Public Service messages will discuss Stimulants in more detail.

MORE ABOUT

Thurber

creating the preposterous, wacky, off-center, anti-gravity Thurbert universe.

By means of a pair of scenes called "Word Dances," some of Thurber's most hilarious cartoon-captions find theatrical expression.

In these scenes, couples are dancing and their small-talk is uproariously heard during music lulls, such as a woman's remark to her husband, "Why didn't they repeal inhibition while they were at it?"

Swanick will edit audiences at the Army Depot theater with a recital of the immortal Thurber tale about "The Night the Bed Fell," and in a scene with Frank Joachimschuler he will reveal how history might have been different "if Grant Had Been Drinking at Appomattox."

"Monumental Cliches"

Joachimschuler will enact the story of "The Lake Flower." Frey, as the homicidally-bent Mr. Preble, and Norris, as a Christmas shopper getting sloshed on store-provided cocktails, will deliver some of the monumental Thurber clichés with dead-pan innocence.

The appropriately wacky, wistful touches to the performances are being applied to this revue by Al Erickson, as the director.

Tickets for "A Thurber Carnival" can be obtained from any cast member, and will be on sale before performances at the box office. Adult admission is $1.50 and student admission is $1.

Due to the Nov. 30 fire at Granite City High School the production was moved to the Depot.

Those people holding season tickets for the 1970-71 Masquers' season are invited to attend dinner at Depot Officer's Club after the show Saturday night and meet the cast.

Redmond, 1528 Ponton Road; Charles I. McCombs, 2206 East 24th St.; Marie Stone, Route Two; James Hutchins, St. Louis; Jo Ann Ripper, 3109 Myrtle Ave.; Bonnie M. Hunter, 3256 Rodgers Ave.; Mary J. ## Strikes Parked Car

A car driven by Willie T. Brock, Belleville, struck the auto of Andrew Mikrus, 1200 rear Iowa St., Madison, in front of his home at 6:35 a.m. Sunday. The front end of Brock's car and the rear of the parked auto were damaged, police reported.

FIREMEN FOUGHT the department fire at 2120 Delmar Ave. for nearly four hours Friday. The building was gutted. To pipemen are shown here on the front porch roof directing water through a front window into one of the four burning apartments. Three firemen were injured fighting the fire.

A WATERFALL from the snorkle over the burning apartment building at 2120 Delmar Ave. drenched firemen at the rear of the building Friday. Chief Earl Fronabarger, white coat, helps two other firemen, one behind each column of water, pull a fire hose up the rear steps. Three families lost their possessions in the blaze.

New Plants, Expansion Generates 26,324 Jobs

A record $971.5 million in capital investments for new plants and plant expansions in Illinois in 1970 will generate 26,324 new jobs, according to Ray C. Dickerson, director of the state of Department of Business and Economic Development.

The figures are based on plant announcements and involve 473 projects, but final totals for 1970 will swell, Dickerson said, as additional plant investment decisions are reported to the department.

The 473 proposed projects consist of 158 new plants and 315 expansions of industrial facilities, a decrease from the 655 announcements during all of 1969, Dickerson noted.

He said the number of anticipated new jobs is lower this year than last year's 41,179, principally due to the fact that this year's projects have involved large investments with a relatively low employment factor while many of those in 1969 were the opposite in nature.

Auto Damages Fence

A hit-and-run driver struck and damaged a fence at the home of Charles Kelly, 1322 Edwardsville Road, between 1 and 3:30 p.m. Thursday.

State Fairgrounds Zoo to Close; Phase-Out Begun

The Illinois Department of Conservation is closing its zoo at the state fairgrounds, according to Henry N. Barkhausen, director of the department.

He said phase-out operations have begun but no deadline has been set for their completion.

Reasons for the action include declining attendance during peak seasons, little visitation during fall and winter, vandalism and deterioration of facilities, Barkhausen said. He added that the exhibit became obsolete when the new Springfield municipal zoo opened last year.

The frequency and severity of vandalism in recent months contributed heavily to the decision to discontinue the zoo, Barkhausen reported. Since Thanksgiving, more than 100 game birds were released from their pens, 40 to 50 other birds were slaughtered, and a flock of doves was freed in separate incidents. Pens and equipment were damaged on each occasion.

Disposal of the zoo collection still is under discussion, Barkhausen said. It is expected that the small mammals and birds will be transferred to state game farms and wildlife exhibits, but no decisions have been made on most of the larger animals. These include small herds of deer, elk and buffalo.

One young bull elk, which recently focused public attention on the zoo by killing a pet dog, will be returned to its donor, Oren Bolin, operator of a game farm and wildlife refuge in Kankakee County.

The fairgrounds zoo was established in 1953 and at its peak it contained more than 300 birds and animals of 85 species. Fewer than 50 birds and animals remain.

Rehabilitated twice since opening, the facility now needs a third restoration, Barkhausen said. Cost of the zoo has been estimated at $25,000.

The zoo never has reached its potential as a visitor attraction, the director said.

Illinois Leads Nation In Soybean Production

Illinois again led the nation in soybean production in 1970 when its farmers harvested more than 213 million bushels, according to Director of Agriculture Gordon L. Ropp. The total, down 6 percent from the record harvest of 228 million bushels in 1969, amounted to 18.7 percent of the national production.

The average yield for soybeans slipped during the year from 33.5 bushels per acre in 1969 to 31 bushels in 1970. Ropp attributed the lower soybean yield mainly to an extremely wet spring which delayed planting and a semi-wet harvest season.

Illinois' corn yield dropped from 98 bushels in 1969 to 74 bushels per acre in 1970, the lowest yield since 1960, Ropp said.

He attributed the low corn yield to wet weather during certain times of the year; hot, dry weather in July; and the Southern corn leaf blight last August.

Parking Lot Accident

While backing from a parking space, an auto driven by George Johannsmier, Rural Route One, struck the right side of an auto driven by John A. Phillip, 3301 Franklin Ave., at 3:50 p.m. Thursday on the parking lot at the Bellemore Village shopping center.

Mayor Orders Drive On Stray Animals

Strict enforcement of all animal control regulations was ordered today by Mayor Donald Partney who said that the city "is being overrun with stray animals" and that there is a sharp increase in the number of dog and cat bites among children.

Some of the children bitten in recent weeks are being subjected to the series of rabies shots necessary in cases where the animals are not identified and their condition determined.

Partney said that under existing laws no owner or keeper of dogs or cats may permit animals to run loose, whether licensed or unlicensed, unless the animals are muzzled sufficiently to prevent their biting any person.

He said the city humane officer has been instructed to impound all stray animals picked up for a 48-hour period. The dogs, if not claimed in that time, will be disposed of, the mayor said.

Persons missing their pets were instructed to call the Animal Shelter on Route 3.

of-way from Niedringhaus Avenue, Granite City, to Broadway, Venice, which is our pledge to you that we are ready to move in giving you long-needed southbound access to the interstate system.

"The second vital element of our approach to government has been a determination to develop practical, hard-nosed answers which will actually work. We care little about the dreams of the pie-in-the-sky commentators who offer their unworkable schemes at the drop of a hat.

"We prefer the answer that is hammered out in open discussion between opposing sides of a problem — because that kind of answer has a solid chance for success.

Cooperative Solutions
"So, as an adjunct to our concern for workable answers, we put a high premium on a broad spirit of cooperation between government and the vast resources of private enterprise.

"We believe in cooperation — not only because it gets more comprehensive, broad-based answers that way—but also because we know that people who participate in making a decision are more likely to support it once it is made. A cooperative decision is more likely to be a successful one.

"The instances in which we have put cooperation to work are too numerous to catalog, but a few come to mind.

"I think, for example, of the long months we spent with labor unions, contractors and minority groups from Matanzas and St. Clair counties negotiating a settlement for the long-standing dispute which froze all highway building in your area for two years.

"To be perfectly candid, we are not yet out of the woods on that sticky problem. Old attitudes die hard. But I believe the same kind of patience and determination which hammered out that first vital agreement can fashion a lasting resolution of this difficult situation."

Ogilvie added that "I am also reminded of groups like the commission to suggest revision in our Illinois labor laws, and a group which developed acceptable revisions in the unemployment and workers' compensation rates two years ago. In both instances, Illinois industry was well-represented.

Strong Anti-Pollution Law
"Cooperation was also evident last year when we sought to create a workable and reasonable plan for controlling pollution.

"We received the help and advice of many industries as well as concerned citizens and conservation groups, and what resulted was not a weak bill, but a strong, effective bill. And, moreover, it is a plan which will work.

"This administration simply does not buy the argument of the professional critics and cynics that the American industry is the root of all evil.

"We know that the prosperity of Illinois is inextricably linked with the prosperity of her industry—and we are prepared to act on that inescapable fact of economic life. We are determined to maintain the kind of climate where you can do business freely and profitably.

"Yet, we know that a sound economic climate is a complex condition, made up of many factors, both within and beyond the control of government.

Social Stability
"We know that a business climate is more than a tax structure. It is also a labor force, transportation facilities, intangible community attitudes, and social stability.

"It consists of such varied elements as schools and housing and parks and city streets. And this administration has chalked up some notable achievements on every one of those fronts.

"A. W. Clausen, chief executive officer of the Bank of America, the world's largest financial institution, has summarized this recognition thus: 'In the long pull, nobody can expect to make profits—or have any meaningful use for profits if the whole fabric of society is being ripped to shreds.'"

The governor continued, "Against this background, it is safe to make a few general observations about the near future and its prospects for Illinois business.

No State Tax Increase
"First, I foresee no net increase in state taxes. Despite the reduced growth in state revenues stemming from the current recession, as well as a sharp increase in the demand on state government, I intend to propose no increase in the income tax or any other state tax.

"Second, the emphasis during the coming legislative session will renew our commitment to cut out dead weight, make existing programs work better, and generally get more service out of the tax dollar.

Impact of New Constitution
"Third, the enactment of a new state constitution will have an impact far beyond the mere structure of government. It will lead the way toward more responsive government, more equitable economic structures, better community planning, and a renewed sense of confidence which can only be good for all of society.

"Fourth on a broader scale, I would venture that the economic prospects are getting brighter in Illinois.

"That is not an original forecast, as most American economists have reached a similar conclusion.

"But based on indicators which tell us that we haven't as far to go as the rest of the nation—as well as our year-end decline in unemployment—I would guess that Illinois may be slightly ahead of the rest of the country in starting the climb upward.

"The speed with which we make that ascent will depend in large measure on the success we encounter in dealing with the problems confronting society," Ogilvie asserted.

Involvement for Survival
"That success will depend heavily on the role of business. To say we need your involvement and assistance in this effort is not a plea for charity; it is a plan for survival itself. I urge each of you to join in the fight. Give to your political party. Ride herd on your public officials. Follow the course of legislation. Seek out ways to improve your local community.

"Illinois needs you—not just your financial resources, but your energy, your determination, your technical skills have a big job to do. Together, we will succeed."

The governor told the local audience that "whatever the differences between your companies and the large business which I now administer, we are united in a common commitment to effective management, increased efficiency, and maximum results.

"We are united in a common effort to improve the social and economic climate in which you can make the decisions necessary to compete freely and profitably in the American marketplace.

Government Not an Enemy
"My presence here tonight is representative of a subtle—but significant—change in the thinking of American businessmen about how we ought to go about building that kind of society.

"In a very real sense, that change marks a reconciliation with the realities of this technological age.

"There was a time, in the not-distant past, when businessmen viewed government—any government—as the sworn enemy. It was a case of 'us and them.'"

"They urged their employees to become active in civic and community affairs—to participate in the symphony orchestra and the Boy Scouts and the Kiwanis Club. But, for heavens sake, stay away from politics."

"As a result, they had a lot of influence with the orchestra conductor, the scoutmaster and an occasional social worker, but nobody had ever heard of them down at City Hall.

Effect on Business Climate
"All that is changing. Businessmen are coming to recognize that the political system performs an important role in assuring the kind of climate which I can do business successfully. They are beginning to realize that the decisions which really matter to a business are made at City Hall or in the Capitol as often as they are made in the corner office of the executive suite.

"That realization has generated unprecedented levels of cooperation in which I am pleased to participate here tonight.

"An honest assessment of our situation must include a flat statement: Illinois is in sound economic health, and its future is bright.

"This is not mere Chamber of Commerce talk. I promised an honest assessment, and I believe the facts will back me up. Let's consider a few of those facts:

Fewer Illinois Jobless
"Unemployment in Illinois at the end of 1970 stood at 4.1%, nearly two full percentage points below the national average.

"The movement during the course of the year also indicated considerable stability in our state. While the year-long national average was 5%, indicating a decline on the order of the end of the year, the difference between our year's average and the year-end figures was only two-tenths of a point," Ogilvie pointed out.

"It is also worth noting that the Illinois figure dropped slightly between November and December while the national rate was going up.

"It would be premature to infer too much from this decline, but there is reason to hope that Illinois is finding a bottom to the present economic slowdown before the rest of the nation.

High Per Capita Income
"Per capita annual personal income in Illinois is a whopping $588 above the national average, and nearly $500 higher than the second-ranked state in our five-state north central region.

"Broken down on a percentage basis, the personal income figure in Illinois jumped by 4.9% during 1970. While the increase was somewhat lower than the national average—which is to be expected if you consider the lead with which we started—it is substantially ahead of the average for our northwestern region.

"The figures for industrial employment also tell a story of sound economic health relative to the rest of the nation.

"While all non-agricultural employment suffered a decline during the current recession, the dropoff in Illinois was only a fraction of what it was for our region and for the nation as a whole.

"Total non-farm employment in our state declined by a tiny one-eighth of 1% last year while the dropoff in the north central region as a unit was 2.4 times greater," the governor related.

"Considering the payrolls in manufacturing alone, the Illinois decline was only one quarter of the rate of our sister states, and about one-half of the national percentage drop."

Sound Industrial Growth
"Illinois also ranked near the top among the states in the level of industrial growth recorded during 1970. More than 450 new and expanded plant facilities, representing an investment of nearly $1 billion and more than 26,000 new jobs, were counted by our state Department of Business and Economic Development.

"This is an important statistic, because it reflects the confidence of the American business community in the soundness and vitality of Illinois' economy.

"He added that such confidence—not only among outsiders but shared by all of us at home—reflects the strength of our economic condition.

"For the guiding force of economic development, Value is not ordained by some force on high, but is determined by the willingness of others to follow.

"By the same token, Illinois is not strong because its governor decrees it so, but because men of business believe it is strong and are willing to back up their beliefs with capital. Business is in a giving mood, freely—especially by businessmen whose participation in a highly competitive system requires a coldly practical outlook.

State Streamlining
"There are many intangible elements responsible for the confidence we enjoy, and I don't presume to know them all. I want to touch on one factor with which I am familiar—

580,000 Women Eligible For Veterans' Programs

A law signed by the President last month made wives of army, navy, air force and coast guard men listed for more than 90 days as missing in action, captured "or forcibly detained or interned in the line of duty by a foreign government or power," eligible for Veterans Administration home loan and educational programs, John B. Naser, chief of the VA Regional Office in Chicago, has announced.

The 1,000 wives of American servicemen missing or captured in Vietnam make up only a small percentage of the 580,000 women eligible for educational benefits, home loans, or both from the Veterans Administration, the director pointed out.

The largest group eligible for VA programs is 180,000 female veterans of World War II and the Korean Conflict. Naser said those unused expired loan benefits were restored by law last October.

Another 100,000 women now in service, or who served after Jan. 31, 1955, qualify under the current GI Bill for monthly checks for educational purposes and for the home loan program with loans guaranteed up to 60 per cent with a maximum of $12,000.

Under new VA program, 175,000 widows of deceased veterans can go to school, take training or make home loans under VA programs, Naser noted. About 8,200 thus far have taken advantage of the major programs, he said.

Among the wives of 64,000 permanently and totally disabled veterans eligible for VA educational benefits, only 1,800 have participated in the program so far, the director pointed out.

Naser urged women who believe they may be eligible for benefits under any VA program to contact the nearest Veterans Administration office, or write to the VA Regional Office, 200 W. Taylor St., Chicago, Ill. 60612.

MORE ABOUT 3 Firemen

Lindsey yelled that a light fixture on the ceiling of a rear bedroom was ablaze and had fallen on the floor.

Lindsey said the fire must have started between the corner of Mrs. Lindsey's apartment and the floor of the apartment because by the time the firemen ran into the bedroom the ceiling was burning.

Lindsey opened the closet door to attempt to save Mrs. Lindsey's purse with her pay check in it, and the flames leaped out of his face, he said. His hair and eyebrows were singed and his face was reddened by the flames, but he declined medical attention.

Smoke Through Floor
Mrs. Gray said she noticed smoke coming through the floor of her second floor apartment and she gathered her three children together and got them out of the house. When she attempted to go back into the burning apartment, she said it was as though something exploded and the room burst into flames. She was unable to save anything.

The Granite City Fire Department received the first call of the fire at 11:55 a.m. and sent three units. Later they called in the 85-foot aerial snorkel truck, the inhalator and a pickup truck with a deluge gun.

The Madison Fire Department was notified to remain on stand-by in case of another fire in the city at 1:00 p.m. and remained on alert for one hour.

Appeal for Help
Friday afternoon the Gray family issued an appeal for clothing, food and furniture. They said that all their belongings were lost in the blaze and Gray is unable to work at the time because of an injury. They are staying temporarily with the McCarty family, 2639 Edwards St.

Those wishing to donate items may take them directly to the home or call Mrs. Rebecca Jones, 2210 Lee Ave., at 877-3888 to have donations picked up.

The oldest child, Maurice Gray, 8, needs size 10 pants and shirts; Ina, 2½, needs size 4 clothing and 5½ shoes and the six month old boy, Donald Jr., wears size one shoe clothing.

Children in School
Mrs. Lindsey was clad only in her pajamas and house shoes as she fled with her five-year-old son, T.H. The other children, boys of 8 and 16 and girls of 9 and 12, were in school.

The family is receiving aid to dependent children benefits and food stamps and cash was among items burned.

The family is staying with her sister, Mrs. Willa Derickson, 2222 Ohio Ave.

An appeal was made for clothing and furniture for the family, and those wishing to donate may phone Mrs. Derickson at 876-1666 or another sister, Mrs. Patricia Blackwell, 2561 Nameoki Drive, 842-8136.

Madison Patrol Car Hits Parked Auto

In the third accident in many months, a Madison Police Department patrol car was damaged in a collision at 10:16 p.m. yesterday when it struck a parked car.

In the other two accidents the officers driving the cars were injured. In yesterday's mishap, Patrolman Norris Horton, 897 Brad Ave., Madison, escaped injury.

Horton, in car 25, was on call at a tavern at Second and Jackson streets when a man ran from the tavern and the officer started to follow him. Horton lost control of the car and struck the parked auto of Mary L. Adkinson, St. Louis, parked in front of 321 W. Second St.

The right front of the squad car and the left rear of the parked auto were damaged.

Six Teachers of Deaf Sought for Bi-County Area in 1971-72 Year

Steve Gargac, president of the Bi-County Parents of Hearing Impaired, presided last week at the group met at Lake School. A report was given by Mrs. Jay Dittich and a discussion was held on monthly reports prepared by Mrs. Gail Gargac.

The librarian, Mrs. Ruby McCoy of Granite City, announced that the organization has a supply of magazines available. Gargac said he will attend a Feb. 25 meeting with Wilbur Trimpe, superintendent of the Madison-St. Clair County educational service region, and directors of the oral deaf program in the Madison-St. Clair Counties. Purpose of the meeting is to establish objectives of the program.

Charles Dittich of Granite City will be in charge of an annual fund sale in the spring.

Mrs. Joan Gregory, supervisor of the bi-county public school program, reported that a new teacher of the deaf will begin work next week at East St. Louis. She said six teachers of the deaf will be needed for the 1971-72 school year. troop for oral deaf girls organized in this area, displayed the troop's scrapbook and said the troop is sponsored by Caseyville Elks Lodge 664, Fairview Heights. Girls aged 6-10 are eligible to join and additional information is available from Mrs. Herzog, 832-6990. Meetings are held each Saturday afternoon.

He will attend the next meeting Feb. 27 in Normal, where pending legislation in Illinois will be discussed. The federal government has established a demonstration school for the deaf at the Kendall School on the campus of Gallaudet College, Washington, D.C.

The parents voted to send Mrs. Gregory to the Alexander Graham Bell Association for the Deaf convention in Washington in February. She is on the national advisory board and is a member of the national library committee.

Physical Therapist Grants Offered by Illinois Elks

Local high school students desiring to enter the field of physical therapy in college may be eligible for grants up to $1,000 a year from the Illinois Elks Association Crippled Children's Commission, according to George M. Gordon, Youth Activities chairman for Granite City Elks Lodge 1063.

Financial aid offered through the Elks Crippled Children's Commission program is available to qualifying students in the form of a loan until the student has completed the third year of study toward a Physical Therapy diploma, at which point the amount advanced will be converted to an outright grant, the local Elks officials said.

Interested high school students may obtain an application and scholarship information sheet by contacting Gordon, Exalted Ruler E. David Whitsell or Past Exalted Ruler James Kenney, or by writing the local Elks officers at Granite City Elks Club, 1228 Niedringhaus Ave.

The application, together with the letters of reference or recommendation, school records, a letter listing the student's personal desires, biography and intentions must be returned to local Lodge officers prior to March 1.

Judging in March
Gordon explained the information is then evaluated by Elks officials here and referred to the Illinois Elks Crippled

Children's Commission for judging by a special committee starting March 10. Selection of scholarship recipients is based on need—financial and family, personality—references from such areas as church, scouts, employment and activity groups; desire—personal, ambition, biography or ambition; and grades and school—high school record, activities, club and recommendations of teachers, principal or counselor.

Upon becoming a Graduate Physical Therapist, those who receive aid through the program will be requested to:

A. Accept one year of paid employment as a member of the Illinois Elks Association Crippled Children's Commission therapy staff, if a vacancy exists, or

B. Accept employment at the University of Illinois Hospitals therapy staff, if a vacancy exists, or

C. Accept employment at any hospital in the state of Illinois that is capable of providing physical therapy for patients of the Illinois Elks Association Crippled Children's Commission, if the hospital therapy staff is in need of an employee.

Gordon noted that the three conditions listed are subject to agreement by the Elks Crippled Children's Commission, the employer (hospital) and the employee (graduating therapist).

In a letter to the local lodge, Robert O. Steinhour, director of the Illinois Crippled Children's Commission stated:

"Your Commission is striving to aid those students who have a genuine desire to make Physical Therapy their chosen profession.

"At the present time we have 11 students in school and are offering a total of six new scholarships to students chosen in March for the fall term of 1971."

Plan Graduate Course On Problems of Aged
A survey of the problems of the aged will be the subject of a new interdisciplinary graduate course beginning in February at St. Louis University.

Faculty from the fields of social work, health, economics, nursing, medicine, biology and psychology will study the life problems of the aged in such areas as income, health, housing and activity.

Associate professor of social work Ira Ehrlich has coordinated the course. He will attend the planning session of the regional White House Conference on Aging Wednesday as a consultant.

He also was appointed recently to the steering committee of social work education in gerontology of the Gerontological Society. He will open the course on Feb. 18 by identifying the elderly and discussing the social aspects of aging.

Herman Blumenfeld, M.D., Washington University research professor of gerontology in psychology, will lecture on the biological aspects of aging on Feb. 25.

Saturday is Final Day For Park ID Cards
The final issuance of identification cards to Granite City Park District residents until May will take place from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday, at Wilson Park rink pavilion.

All park ID cards issued prior to 1970 have expired and must be renewed at the present time to enable local residents to continue to participate in district-sponsored activities at reduced rates. Harold Brown, park superintendent advised.

Cost of the cards is 60 cents per person, which includes an identifying photograph. Brown said. Only persons living within the park district's boundaries are entitled to secure the ID cards, he explained.

Coe-Seka. Nuptials Held At St. Joseph Saturday

St. Joseph Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding Saturday afternoon of Miss Janet Seka and Richard C. Coe. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William C. Seka, 2328 Cardinal Ave. Mr. Coe's parents are Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Coe of University City, Mo.

The Rev. Martin Mangon officiated at the 2 o'clock ceremony and a reception was held afterward at the Slovak Hall.

Mrs. Francis Judd presided at the organ. Her selections were "Ave Maria," and the Lord's Prayer.

Mr. Seka gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a short gown of white imported chiffon with an Empire bodice and a coat effect. Long billowing sleeves of chiffon had cuffs and collar of Val lace. Forward lace and pearl petals secured the bride's tiered illusion veil and she carried a nosegay of white carnations.

The only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stephens, the latter a cousin of the bride. She wore a short dark blue velvet gown with a soft bow of light blue at the neck. A matching velvet bow formed her headpiece and she held a bouquet of carnations tipped dark blue.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Seka chose a lavender crepe A-line dress, black accessories and a corsage of carnations tipped blue. The bridegroom's mother was in a mocha and yellow knit dress with matching accessories and yellow carnations in her corsage.

Denny Michaels and Scott Rushing served as ushers.

After a brief honeymoon trip the newlyweds will live here. The former Miss Seka, a graduate of the Granite City High School, is employed as a printer by Fact, Inc., St. Louis.

Mr. Coe graduated from Normandy High School in St. Louis and he too is employed by the Fact Co., as a processor.

Miss Suse Seka presided over the guest book at the reception.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the bride's parents at their home.

Out of town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Wren Lowery of Pittsfield, Ill., and Mr. and Mrs. Blake Lowery of Litchfield.

Miss Rita Lynn Curtis, James A. Pulley Wed

Miss Rita Lynn Curtis and Private First Class James A. Pulley exchanged wedding vows in an evening ceremony Saturday at Bethesda Baptist Church.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Curtis, 2523 Circle Drive, P.O. Pulley, 2601 Center Street, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmon Pulley of Route Two, Dover, Tenn.

Altar bouquets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums, together with lighted candles and white satin pew bows provided the setting for the service at 7:30. The Rev. Merl McDaniell officiated.

Mrs. Robert Grayson presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Rev. Austin Fisher. The songs were "I Love You Truly," the Lord's Prayer, and the theme from Romeo and Juliet.

The bride, who was escorted by her father, wore an Empire gown of gardenia peau de soie and Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice of lace had a high neckline and long sleeves accented with satin ribbon. The skirt ended in a chapel train. A fabric rose headpiece secured the bride's veil of illusion and she carried a white teardrop bouquet centered with a corsage.

The attendants were Mrs. Francis Schuetz, a sister of the bride, matron of honor, and Miss Barbara Fithen, bridesmaid. They wore gowns of Emerald green with Empire bodices of chiffon over taffeta. White daisies accented the waitresses and the sleeves were long and puffed. Matching fabric headpieces secured circular nose, veil and both held carnations tinted yellow.

Jennifer Curtis, a niece of the bride, and Earl Gray, the bridegroom's cousin, served as flower girl and ring bearer. The former was a miniature version of the older attendants. She carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Robert Fitzhugh, an uncle, served as best man for Pfc. Pulley, and Terry Redmond, a cousin, Gilbert Ellis and Merl McDaniels Jr., were groomsmen and ushers.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Curtis wore a dress of navy blue, while the bridegroom's mother chose a beige costume. Both had matching accessories and corsages of white carnations.

The Rev. Sylvester Mick, O.F.M., officiated at the 2 o'clock ceremony and a reception was held later at the Polish Hall.

A gown of Chantilly lace and organza designed with an Empire bodice of lace, a scoop neckline outlined with pearls, and long, tapered sleeves was worn by the bride.

Scalloped lace formed a red-tinged effect over the floor-length skirt of organza which swept into an all lace chapel train, and a lace headpiece secured a tiered bouffant veil of illusion. The bride carried a Sweet Simplicity bouquet of white roses centered with a lavender orchid.

Miss Marge Scaturro was maid of honor, serving with two bridesmaids, Miss Mary Jane Kaiser, a sister of the bridegroom, and Miss Mary Jane Wenzel. They wore two-tone gowns of velvet and crepe combinations. The brides, with rolled collars, had long full sleeves, and long skirts were of crepe.

National Strikes Had An Indirect Impact Here; U. S. Acting to Aid Railroad Upturn, Rail Car Orders

By WILLIAM F. HOELSCHER
General Manager-Secretary
Manufacturers' Association of the Tri-Cities

The Tri-Cities area industrial-business community started off the year 1970 with 16,000 employees, employed in 62 reporting firms, and it ended the year with a positive gain of only 14,800 as compared with a high in 1966 of 21,000.

The unemployment rate rose to a high of 7.9% in November 1970. With the exception of Lipsett Steel Products Co., which suffered a 21-day strike before reaching agreement with the Steelworkers' union, the year 1970 produced no major local industrial strike activity.

Despite this period of local labor peace, the national strikes by the Teamsters Union and the United Auto Workers took a heavy productivity toll.

Highest hit by these two national strikes were the Madison roofing products plant of the Johns-Manville Corp. and the Granite City automobile frame plant of A. O. Smith Corp.

The 37-day Teamster walkout which paralyzed the trucking industry in the St. Louis area interfered with production at both of these firms.

Johns-Manville was further pressed during the summer by a lack of local housing starts, and on Oct. 1, 1970, closed the Madison plant permanently and moved production requirements to other company plants in northern Illinois.

A. O. Smith Corp. also experienced a summer production loss due to a major model changeover and an additional eight-week loss of production due to the fall 67-day strike by the U. S. Auto Workers against General Motors. In all, A. O. Smith lost more than 10% of their normal annual production in 1970.

The company was successful, however, in completing a 25,000-square-foot addition to the plant in the early part of the year and accomplishing an orderly and highly successful major model changeover.

Although continuing to maintain profitable operations, Granite City Steel felt the effect of both the national steel and auto strikes as well as costly disruptions in production flow caused by third-quarter shortages of coal and coke.

Despite these problems, Granite City Steel set a company record in 1970, producing more than 1,516,000 tons of steel.

During the year, Granite City Steel continued its acquisition program with purchase of Central States Steel, Inc., of Kansas City, a distributor of steel for agriculture and construction.

Raw material availability also continued to be a crucial problem for Laclede Steel Co. Laclede depends entirely on scrap to make steel in its electric furnaces at its Alton melt shop, and increasing orders of prime scrap from the United States cost the company $7 million more for scrap in 1970 than in 1969.

Although the current national recession affected all heavy manufacturing industry in Tri-Cities last year, the effect was particularly acute at the Castings Division of General Steel Industries, Inc.

Although the Division maintained a good level of production on steel castings, the turbine electric power generating plants, wear-resistant, armor, and earth-moving equipment systems for rail rapid transit cars, a major decline in railroad freight car business forced substantial layoffs in the latter months of 1970.

The normal General Steel work force of 1,600 employees has now been reduced to approximately 800, and increased unemployment awaits a recovery of the railroad market.

Congress has recognized this problem with the passage last November of the "Rail Passenger Act of 1970," which created the National Rail Passenger

Calvo, Vadalabene Attempting to Separate Quad-Cities from Rest of Levee District

State Rep. Horace Calvo and State Sen. Sam Vadalabene are on the right track in their efforts to separate the Quad-City area from the East Side Levee and Sanitary District.

There is no real prospect that the mismanagement, immensely costly district could be abolished entirely; some of its functions must be continued. What their legislation proposes is that the Madison County portion be detached, forming a new, entirely-local district.

The new agency and the one governing the remaining territory then would need to co-operatively maintain those drainage channels which cross the county line. The existing bond debt would have to be divided in some equitable manner between the two districts. Such procedures may appear to be awkward but they are justified by past history — the record of more than six decades of abuse of the public's needs, wishes and pocketbooks.

The St. Clair County portion would be left within the levee district which would have less territory to supervise than at present and might find that it could perform its tasks in an improved manner. It could hardly do worse than it has been doing.

The Quad-City area would have no guarantee of an ideal levee and sanitary system but there would be a genuine opportunity for a function in a reasonably efficient manner. It would be serving a single, cohesive community instead of two basically unrelated areas.

Citizens who had legitimate complaints or suggestions could make themselves heard by the new Quad-City board and its constituency. They could bring about justified changes in the board membership through citizens action in contrast to the current situation in which the East St. Louis city hall machine calls the tune.

Utilize Abandoned Ill. Terminal Right-of-Way as Recreation Site

To the Editor:

I think we have an opportunity in our area to preserve something that would bear great dividends in outdoor recreation at present and for many years to come. I am like to see to it that the assistance of anyone who is interested.

The Illinois Terminal Railroad is presently abandoning portions of its road in Madison and Macoupin counties that once carried the electric line. Much of the rail and ties have already been removed.

I have no idea what will happen to the roadbed, but I think it has great possibilities as a nature trail, a bike trail, a hiking path, a scouting trail, an arboretum, wildlife cover or simply just a place to take a walk where you leave the car.

Madison Metal Decorating Co. in February of last year became the first tenant of the new five-acre Maers Industrial Park in Madison.

In September, Madison Metal Decorating Co. was joined by its sister firm — the Calbe Steel Co. — both firms are subsidiaries of American Industries Corp. and occupy new joint facilities in the Maers Industrial Park.

Operations in the new facilities increased both Metal Decorating's sales and employment favorably, and Calbe Steel Co. has just completed negotiations for a half-million dollar addition to the plant to be constructed in November 1970.

In November 1970, Fox Industries was acquired by Diversified Industries, Inc., of Clayton, Mo., on an exchange of stock and is now a member of Diversified's Metals and Industrial Division.

Other industrial activity in the community and immediate surrounding area during 1970 included: the completion of a new basic copier plant near the Hartford Canal, owned by Chemico Metals, a subsidiary of the Belgium firm Metalchemie; the start of construction of a building for an adhesives plant of Swift and Co. in the Maers Industrial Park; announcement by Reilly Tar & Chemical Corporation of plans to expand their production facilities; and the opening of a new warehouse on the Tri-City Regional Port District property for use by the owner-operator, the Bulk Service Corp.

Sisters of Divine Providence Are Honored at Surprise Shower

The Sisters of Divine Providence, who have taken over St. Elizabeth Hospital, were surprised with a linen shower and reception by more than 300 people. The visitors were served refreshments and then were shown through the hospital. Among the guests called to St. Louis from St. Francis de Sales parish, where some of the Sisters had at one time been located.

Purchase by the state of Illinois of the Mounds of Cahokia, including Monks' Mound, for the purpose of converting the site and local taxpayers have to perform, with no way of electing a board majority.

It could be the beginning of a healthy new era, breathing fresh air into a government mechanism which has grown so stale and foul that it lowers respect for our democratic process in the state and nation as well as in this region.

Democrats and Republicans alike should proceed resolutely and not let St. Clair politicians torpedo the separation effort.

State Environmental Agency Shake-up Adds To Impact of the Sewage Treatment Order

In view of reports during the weekend of a shakeup in the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, the agency's call for immediate city action on Granite City secondary sewage treatment takes on added significance.

The state trend is expected to be toward increasingly strict standards and deadlines. With state water pollution control requirements advancing the secondary treatment deadline from 1975 to 1973, the municipality is being urged to go ahead with planning and engineering work leading up to installation of additional treatment facilities. The existing city sewage treatment plant provides primary treatment, and the state government is saying that this degree of treatment will no longer be acceptable.

With both Clarence W. Klusen and Douglas B. Morton reported to be leaving their state positions, there is little expectation of any re-organization in the division of over 100 representatives. The Pollution Control Board headed by David P. Currie is gaining a reputation as "hard line" and unyielding.

Granite City is going to have to provide secondary treatment for the sewage it discharges into the Mississippi River. The only question is whether it will do so the difficult way or now—where up to 95% of the cost can be obtained from the state and federal governments.

What it takes to make a house look lived in is Sunday.

Terrell Named 'General Agent of Nation'

Designation of Bill Terrell as "general agent of the nation" for December 1970 reflects the caliber of his sales and his sales ability.

Local area manager for the Franklin Life Insurance Co., he also was 1970 salesman of the year in a division of over 100 representatives and has passed the $3 million level in annual sales production. It is not surprising that his ideas are being featured by the company in its training films, cassette tapes and national magazine.

READER FAVORS MUTUAL FREEDOM OF PRISONERS

To the Editor:

I have sent the following letter to U. Thant, Secretary General, United Nations, New York.

I thought perhaps a letter from the heartland of America might be of some assistance to the arguments of the majority of the American people.

We are a fierce people when wronged, and a very proud people all the time, but generally a fair-minded people.

To confirm our sense of justice and fair play, I would suggest you read not only our Constitution which suggests you already have, but also the Bill of Rights and the other Amendments thereto, which I also suggest you read.

I and I suggest that you also consider our current efforts to remedy wrongs suffered by approximately one-tenth of our population, the black Americans, who are some of our fiercest and proudest citizens.

I can only suggest to you that these historical and background facts speak louder than some of the day-to-day rhetoric to which you and others may be subjected.

I urge you to consider the possibility and desirability and the extremely powerful beneficial effect on the sense of justice and fair play of the American people, that would result from a decision by North Vietnam to free all prisoners of the United States taken in the current conflict in Vietnam in return for a similar action by the United States and its allies.

As we are told by a wise man from the orient, "the neck of the woods, the journey of a thousand miles begins with the first step."

I submit to you that this might well be a very auspicious first step on a lengthy and sometimes difficult, but essential journey.

Not knowing, I would guess that the qualities described above as being inherent in the American people might also be found in the people of Vietnam, and that the reciprocal freeing of all prisoners by the United States and its allies would have upon those people the same effect of beneficial effect I would anticipate it having on the American people.

On a purely practical basis, if it didn't work, both sides would have ample opportunity thereafter to acquire more prisoners, and in any event, permit me to suggest that it's worth a try, and that it may be worth your efforts and the efforts of the United Nations.

Thank you for any consideration you might give to this lonely letter from one citizen of mid-America who is growing weary of reading about killing and dying.

Oversupply of Teachers Expected To Reach 600,000 in U. S. by 1975

By PARKER LAWLIS, Associate Director
Illinois State University Placement Service

Declining birth rates in the nation and in Illinois will contribute to a worsening of the problem of oversupply in the teaching profession in the years ahead.

Four factors are causing the teacher surplus:

(1) The growing number of college students preparing for teaching careers.

(2) The declining number of births.

In Illinois, there were 225,062 births in 1963 and only 190,638 in 1968. Across the nation, births declined from 4,068,020 in 1963 to 3,476,000 in 1968.

Many school districts in the state have a smaller number of second graders than first graders, fewer first than second graders, fewer in kindergarten than in first grade.

This means a gradual decrease in enrollments in the years ahead.

School enrollment in the state, projected at 2,467,324 for 1971, will drop to 2,367,742 in 1975, according to figures furnished by the Office of the Illinois Superintendent of Public Instruction.

This indicates there will be about a quarter of a million fewer students in 1975. If the pupil-teacher ratio averages 25 to 1 as it does now, it would mean 40,000 fewer teachers would be needed in the next seven years.

Yet another factor contributing to the oversupply of teachers is the oversupply of teachers.

There are some secondary level subjects in which there still is a shortage of teachers. These include mathematics, physical sciences, industrial arts, special education, and some vocational technical subjects.

However, the supply of beginning elementary school teachers nationally is figured at 16,000 more than the number of positions to be filled. In secondary schools, the excess of beginning teachers over demand is about 22,000.

ISA's placement service estimates there will be a national surplus of 600,000 qualified teachers by 1975.

In spite of the supply and demand situation, teacher salaries are still increasing. The beginning teachers' salaries in Illinois are projected to reach $7,384 in 1970.

Higher salaries in themselves will be a factor in the oversupply of teachers. Young married teachers are postponing the start of their families longer, and some older women who had left the profession to rear their families are now finding it more compelling to return now that their children are raised.

Newspaper Advertising Produces More Results Than Radio, TV Ads

(Editor & Publisher Magazine)

The first real comparison of newspaper-radio-television advertising was run in 1967. It was a test of five television stations and 261 radio stations—making a total of 266 stations. The results show that newspaper advertising for every hour of broadcast time, produced 20% of the ad influence. And radio accounted for 13% of the budget, and only 9% of the ad influence.

Television, which received 26% of the budget, produced 26% of the ad influence. And radio accounted for 13% of the budget, and only 9% of the ad influence.

This is the most convincing argument for retail use of newspaper advertising in lieu of other media. We trust the nation's newspaper ad executives will make the most of it.

Procedure for Adult Adoptions

(Tri-City and Illinois Bar Associations)

A petition to the court for an adult adoption must contain the name, date of birth and sex of the adult in addition to the full names of the person or persons to be adopted, their place of residence, the length of time they have lived at the address, and the name to be given to the adult.

An adult must state in writing that he consents to the adoption. Written consent of his real parents also must be given, if they can be found, and if they are not mentally retarded or in need of mental treatment.

In the adoption proceedings of minor children, there is usually a preliminary hearing at which time the court must be satisfied that the filing of the petition, a decree of adoption, and when the court hands down the decree. This time is shortened considerably for an adult petition.

The decree may be entered any time after the necessary papers have been filed and a short hearing has been held by the court.

When the adoption decree of an adult has been entered, the clerk of the court which entered the decree prepares an adoption certificate and sends it to the Department of Mental Health.

An adopted adult has the same legal status as a natural child. The adopted adult can legally inherit from his adoptive parents' estate.

In addition, he may be called upon to support his adoptive parents, as required by law.

Army Depot Orders Transfers for 200

Requests for transfer delays by employees of the Granite City Army Depot are to be consid-ered on their own merits, ac-cording to Depot officials. The Depot, however, has received no orders delaying transfers of all persons who have children in school. Transfer notices were given to 200 maintenance and supply employees last week, with orders to report to Tooele, Utah, by April 5. Persons wishing a delay in transfer must submit individual written requests declaring a hardship, according to Franklin Collins, director of administra-tion. Any change of date in transfers will be coordinated be-tween commanders of the Depot and the Tooele installation, Col-lins said. Congressman Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) said last week that the Department of the Army had agreed to delay trans-fer of hardship cases, such as employees who have children in school. The notice of transfers to 200 employees, which followed Price's announcement, was criti-cized by Tim Burns, business manager for the Operating En-gineers Union representing the employees. Burns said the depot could obtain confirmation of the report by a phone call to the Department of the Army. The Granite City Depot is scheduled to shut down by July 1 under orders of the Depart-ment of Defense.

GOP May Retaliate on Makeup of Committees

With Illinois Senate Democ-rats having taken an 8-5 ma-jority on each committee de-spite the 28-29 party divi-sion, House Republicans tomorrow, with a 90-87 edge, may seek a similar disparity in committee membership.

G O P representatives also have noted that a new Senate rule upholds rulings by Lt. Gov. Paul Simon (D) unless there is a 60% vote to override it. They may boost the majority to over-ride House Speaker W. Robert Blair from 89 to 95.

House Plants and Humidity

High humidity is one of the secrets of growing attractive house plants.

Steamy weather and high hu-midity are natural surround-ings of foliage plants in the wild. When you can produce the same environment your plants will produce their best.

Pans of moist sand or pebbles are one of the best ways to produce a small cloud of high humidity. Clusters of potted plants produce higher hu-midity as each loses moisture from the soil, pot and leaves. A combination of the pan and the group is very successful as long as the pan is occasionally turned to expose all the plants to the light.

Two Flower Pots

Double potting will improve the growth of many house plants by increasing humidity and supplying extra water through the sides of the pot.

Double potting is planting a potted plant in a larger pot lined with peat moss. The moss holds extra water and supplies it through the porous clay pot as needed by the plant. Re-pot your plant in a porous clay pot. Set this clay pot in-side a larger watertight con-tainer and fill the space be-tween the containers with peat moss or shredded sphagnum moss. Water the soil around your plant and the moss. Re-water each time the soil ap-pears dry.

STRATEGY FOR PRUNING SHRUBS

Improved form, vigorous growth but less flowers is the general result of wintertime pruning.

Many favorites like forsythia, flowering quince, honeysuckle and lilacs develop flower buds in the fall. To preserve the blooms prune in late spring when each plant passes its bloom period.

If you enjoy late winter pro-jects and have free afternoons you can improve the vigor of plants and help remove some overwintering diseases and in-sects by selective pruning. New growth is the key to good form and heavy bloom. Each winter cut out one or two dark colored stems in the center of the crown. Modest annual pruning maintains vigorous growth, while it prevents a dense ap-pearance.

Do not prune back now. Late season or mid-winter shearing removes the flowering potential and pro-motes excessive vegetation.

When plants are to vigorous, control the excess growth by soft pinching the new shoots in June. A fingertip pinch to re-move the tip of a vigorous shoot will promote branching and a more compact growth.

Kahoks Bow, Maroons Edge Warrior Cagers In Weekend Battles

For the second time this year Granite City's cage squad bumped heads with the Kahoks of Collinsville and came home the winner Saturday night.

Granite City led the entire game and finished at 75-52. But the victory only offset a loss to Belleville-West Friday night by one point 66-65.

Against a powerful Warrior defense the Kahoks were unable to score one field goal in the first quarter of play but totaled nine points from the free throw line. Granite City accumulated 16 points in that quarter to take a seven-point lead. It was 30-23 at the half.

At the end of the half the Kahoks had not achieved one successful offensive rebound as the Warriors dominated the boards.

In the third and fourth quarters, led by Terry Ripka and Chuck Kraus, the Warriors let loose for 45 points against 29 for the Kahoks.

Kevin Dyer and Joe Wallace with 2 each.

Ripka took 13 rebounds in the fourth quarter alone and helped the Warriors credit with 16 during the game.

Wiggins brought the Warriors within a threatening position at the end of the game by getting the ball downcourt and setting up the offense, especially in the final quarter.

If Wallace had been in peak condition the Warriors may have had the power needed to overcome Belleville but Wallace, suffering from a pulled groin muscle, played only in half of the game and his inability to defend was reflected in his scoring of only two points.

Coach Don Diederich said that the Warriors will work on their offense under a man-to-man defense the rest of the season. "The first quarter in a man-to-man defense has been a jinx for us all year," he said.

Collinsville had only four offensive and 10 defensive rebounds against 40 rebounds for the Warriors. Ripka, who marked 26 points to lead the scoring, also led in rebounding with 10.

Kraus was credit with 20 points, the second time this year he has reached that mark.

Other scorers were Mike DeRuntz and Kevin Dyer with 8 each, Bob Wiggins with 7 and Joe Wallace with 6.

A crushing first quarter was the Warriors downfall in the Belleville-West game here.

The Warriors outplayed Belleville's Maroons the rest of the game, but it was not enough to offset the 20-18 lead Belleville took in the opening stanza.

That lead was closed to 36-27 by the half and it was 54-44 entering the fourth period.

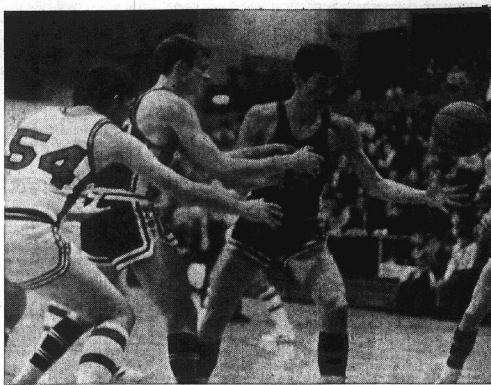

In the final quarter Granite City pulled out all the stops to outscore Belleville 21-12, but it still left them one point short as the final buzzer sounded.

In the last 10 seconds Belleville scored two free throws to give them a 66-65 lead, and time only permitted the Warriors one basket.

High scorer in the game was Ripka with 26 points. He was followed by DeRuntz with 16.

Others contributing points were John Ireland with 15 and 6, Bob Wiggins who had 5, and

The winningest coach in Granite City High School's history, Bill "Red" Schmitt, set a new record this weekend as his matmen defeated East St. Louis Lincoln and Wood River to bring him to his 150th consecutive win against sectional teams.

The last time a Southern Illinois team defeated the Warriors varsity squad was in 1956 and Belleville-West holds that honor.

Granite City more than doubled Wood River's score here Saturday afternoon, winning 31-15. "This was their best chance to get us," Schmitt said. "They were basically a senior team and they had been wrestling together a long time," he said.

When asked the secret of his success, Schmitt said, "Good luck and good kids!"

The Warriors had seven wins, including three falls, three losses and two draws in the meet. Winners by pins were Gary Loy (98) 5:06, Bruce Miller (105) 4:47, and Rick Wickham (135) 3:45. Winners by decisions were Kerry Johnson (112) 7-4, Mike Garland (119) 15-3, Doug Wilson (132) 10-4, and Tom Kalert (185) 12-2. Tom Eaton who normally wrestles 126 failed to make weight and Ken Niebur was moved from 132 into that slot while Doug Wilson wrestled 132. Niebur lost his match 1-0.

Other losses included Charlie Mayfield (138) 11-9, and Rich Sajak (145) who was pinned in 5:18.

Fighting to draws were Mike Wilson (167) 5-5, and Craig Stephens (heavyweight) 1-1.

"We're Number One" was the cry of the Warriors and Granite City fans Friday afternoon as the squad rolled over Lincoln of East St. Louis 32-12.

Lincoln, the winner of the 110-pound tournament, claimed before the meet that they were number one in the Illinois sector of the Metropolitan area and said they were going to prove it by beating Granite City for the first time in more than 15 years.

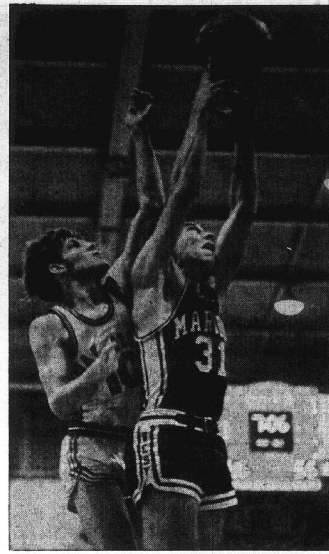

"They wanted it (the win) more than any other meet they ever wrestled," Coach Bill Schmitt said, "but our kids were ready for them."

The most gratifying victory of the meet was in the 105-pound class when Bruce Miller defeated James Bufford of Lincoln 9-4. Bufford had been undefeated this year and had been the man responsible for eliminating Miller from the holiday tournament.

Miller's victory followed a 9-0 decision in which Gary Loy (98) pulled out all the stops and did everything but pin his opponent.

The two victories put the Warriors in top spirits, according to Schmitt, and they gave every match an all out effort throughout the remainder of the meet.

Craig Stephens, who substituted for Mizerski Friday, had

Red Heads, GC Coaches to Match Skills in Cage Game

The name of the game is "basketball" for Moore's All American Red Heads, the world famous girl basketball team which will appear at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Feb. 10, at Granite City High School Memorial Gymnasium.

The Red Heads appearance here will be under the auspices of the Boosters of the Fighting Warriors. Advance ticket sales started this week.

Proceeds from the public benefit show will be used to defray cost of constructing the press box at the high school athletic field and purchasing video tape equipment for the GCHS coaching staff, Tony Melichar, Booster president, said.

As in previous years in their travels across the United States, Canada, South America and Europe, the Red Heads play only men's basketball teams and thrive on action.

The team's record last year was 174 wins and 26 losses.

All-Star Competition

In their appearance here, the Red Heads will compete against the newest member of the all-girl squad, Kathy McCall of Columbus, Ga., a 6 feet 7 inch freshman, the visiting professionals keep audiences amazed with their feats of basketball wizardry and laugh-provoking antics, Melichar said.

"I believe viewers of all ages will enjoy their performance," he added.

Mike Garland (119) and Doug Wilson (126) both came from behind for victories in the final moments of their matches. Garland offset a 4-2 deficit with a n escape and a take down in the last four seconds of his match to defeat his opponent 5-4, and Wilson was trailing 5-4 in his match when he maneuvered his opponent into a pin in 4:36.

The Warriors fought without regulars Harry Miller (112) and Mark Mizerski (heavyweight). Miller will be out about one week with an eye injury and Mizerski suffered a ligament strain in the meet with River-view Gardens last Tuesday and will be out until the district meet, Schmitt said.

Craig Stephens, who substituted for Mizerski Friday, had

Sophomore Kerry Johnson, substitute for Harry Miller, did not fare as well as he lost 4-3 in his first varsity match.

The Warriors had a total of eight wins, four by falls, and four losses in the match. Other winners were Charlie Mayfield (138) who won 10-2, Rick Wickham (135) who won by a pin in 2:20, and Tom Kalert (185) with a pin in 3:58.

Other losers Friday afternoon were Tom Keaton (132) who lost his 2-1 lead in the last 10 seconds of the match when he was caught in a reversal and wound up on the bottom, 3-2.

All-Events Champion

In 1958, he won the all-events championship in the Union Starch and Refining Co. tournament with a 1987 total. The following year, he bowled a league high series of 767, including 298, in the St. Louis BPA Champion tournament league.

216 Season Average

Highest lifetime average for Vrenick was 216, bowled in the Masters League at Floriss in 1955, second by one pin to Don Carter. He shot an 825 league series-Masters in 1955.

Tournaments that Vrenick has won include the McMillan Classic in 1956 at Champaign, Ill., where he averaged 228, and the 1968 match game championship in Arnold, Mo., averaging 221.

He was also the 1965 and 1969 scratch all-events winner in the Louisville Derby Tournament with scores of 1011 and 1088.

U. S. Open Qualifier

At Elliptical Bowl he was the Archway Bowling Association qualifying leader in 1970.

He has twice been invited to bowl in the Worlds Invitational Tournament and six times qualified for the All-Star Tournament. Recently he won the regular qualifying tournament in Illinois for the 1971 U. S. Open Tournament.

In five professional Bowlers Association Tournaments, he finished in the top 16.

Highlight of Career

The highlight of his bowling career came in 1968 at the American Bowling Congress where he and Bill Tucker captured the doubles championship, scoring 1414 with Tucker's 731 and his 683.

In 1961, he was a member of the Cliff Anton Investors team, finishing third in the regular division at the ABC tournament. He rolled 636 for the team total of 3825.

The next year, when he was rolling in the Classic division at the ABC, his 601 helped the United Van Lines team finish second. As he bowled with the same team that year, it also placed him in the National BPAA Tournament.

He also has had some outstanding ABC all-events scores—1922 in 1951, 1921 in 1958, 1862 in 1967, 1805 in 1963 and 1801 in 1965.

David Fox, leadership training chairman, reported that of the 142 units operating in the council, 74 have unit leaders who are fully trained. Fox noted that this summer at Camp Sunken, Potomac, Mo., there will be unit leader training available. Leo Schermer, advancement chairman, reported that a 71 units qualified for the national standard award in advancement. Advancing at least one rank during 1970 were 823 Cub Scouts and 488 Boy Scouts.

Last summer, 545 scouts attended camp for one or more weeks and the plans for 1971 are to increase the attendance to 1,000.

The Order of the Arrow, scouting's honor camping society, was organized into chapters during 1970 to better serve the area scout units, according to Ray Gaudette Sr., advisor to the local lodge. A full camp promotion campaign has been launched by the group under the direction of Rick Hooks of Venice, vice-chief of the lodge.

Council Commissioner William Shindler of Edwardsville reported that, during the past year, 45 commissioners served on his staff in aiding scout units, problems and also assisting in the organizing of several new units.

First Bids for State Funds Under New Treasurer Dixon

Illinois State Treasurer Alan J. Dixon announced on Friday that $106 million in state time deposits will mature April 1 and, to the extent possible, will be reinvested in banks throughout the state at that time.

Every bank in Illinois has been sent an application to bid for state funds, Dixon said. All applications for state deposits must be submitted by March 1.

"My objectives are not complex," the state treasurer said. "I hope to develop an investment program which will:

"1) Provide a fair return to the state.
"2) Recognize the needs of, and work for the benefit of, the people of Illinois."

Geographic Distribution "3) Achieve an equitable distribution of the state's funds among all geographic and size strata of the financial community."

"I must emphasize that last objective," Dixon said, "I intend to place money in every geographic area of the state at the best possible interest rate we can obtain."

In the application sent to the banks, Dixon asked for comments on factors to be considered by him in the allocation of state funds.

Specifically, the treasurer asked banks to list in order of importance:

1) Interest rate bids, 2) Size of a bank measured by its deposits, 3) Size measured by its loans.

4) Bank loans made specifically for community-oriented projects, 5) Geographic location of a bank, 6) Any other factors which bankers believe should also be considered by the treasurer when he allocates state deposits.

Recognize Types of Loans If particular loan activity is recognized in allocation of state funds, what categories of such activities should be considered, Dixon asked the banks, listing:

1) Student loans, 2) Environ-

Klassen May Lose Post in State Environmental Agency

Clarence W. Klassen, well known locally, apparently will not be retained as director of the Illinois State Environmental Protection Agency when Governor Richard B. Ogilvie submits new appointments this week.

Klassen's term in the $35,000-a-year post expires Jan. 18. The governor is preparing to present, for Illinois Senate confirmation, his 1971 list of appointments to cabinet positions and other important state jobs.

Klassen, who is 67, has no retirement plans but it is believed that Ogilvie wants a different approach to environmental problems and closer adherence to the views of the Illinois Pollution Control Board. There has been friction between Klassen and the board particularly its chairman, David P. Currie.

The Environmental Protection Agency investigates and regulates air, water and land pollution, which sets rules and standards and judges complaints. It has tightened some regulations and has set earlier dates for compliance than originally contemplated.

Klassen, a state employee for 46 years, was chief state sanitary engineer for many years. His longtime associate, Douglas B. Morton, reportedly intends to resign as chief of the Illinois Bureau of Water Pollution Control, an EPA division.

Klassen has taken the position that companies and municipalities should curb pollution but not under such stringent deadlines that they are bankrupted.

One Plus... It's simply Southwestern Bell's new way to describe what most people are already familiar with—dial-it-yourself Long Distance. It's fast. It can save you money on most out-of-state calls.

We call it One Plus... because you dial:

1 + Area Code* + the number.
(*if different from your own)

That's It. One Plus... Beautiful.

Record 1970 Production at GC Steel; Costs a Problem

Granite City Steel Co. had net income in 1970 of $2,385,000, or 78 cents per share of common stock, compared with $1,672,000, or 32 cents per share, in 1969, when results were affected by unusual operating problems early in the year. It was announced Friday at a meeting of the Board of Directors.

Nicholas P. Veeder, chairman and chief executive officer of the St. Louis area's largest steel company, said Granite City Steel produced 1,517,000 tons of raw steel in 1970, or 3% more than the 1,471,000 tons produced in 1969. The company shipped 1,239,000 tons of rolled steel products, or 2% above 1969, when shipments were 1,212,000 tons.

Both production and shipments were higher in 1970 than any previous year in the company's history. "Short of Expectations" "Nevertheless," Veeder said, 1970 fell short of expectations for Granite City Steel or the steel industry.

"It was a year of recession, with the durable goods sector of the economy operating at considerably below recent levels. In addition, 1970 nationally was characterized by disruptive strikes and highly inflationary trends."

"Not only did the price of practically everything we buy increase substantially but metal-urgical coal and coke were in short supply, resulting in costly interruptions to steel mill production. Operations and shipments were also adversely affected throughout the second quarter of 1970 by the truck strike and in the fourth quarter by the auto strike, which closed down the nation's largest single user of steel."

"The prices of our flat-rolled steel products were raised in 1970 but these increases—which averaged 3.7% on our 1970 product mix—were far short of what was needed to compensate for the higher costs incurred during the year."

"Material Prices Soared" "There were substantial increases in the cost of virtually everything we buy—and extraordinary increases in the cost of some raw materials we consume in large quantities."

"Our costs for metallurgical coal increased 39% during 1970; purchased coke increased 69%; and fuel oil increased 85%. As a matter of fact, steel price increases have fallen short of steel cost increases for the last five years."

Discussing the outlook for 1971, Veeder said, "We estimate for steel is expected to be strong during the first half this year, as manufacturers and other fabricators build inventory against the possibility of a steel strike later in the year. "Granite City Steel should have good first-half shipments with a more favorable product mix than in 1970, when we maintained operations at a high volume level by shipping a large tonnage of semi-finished steel."

Balanced Facilities "The company's production facilities are now in better balance than in 1970 and we are correspondingly better able to support the rebuilding of our market position."

"We are also hopeful that the increase in raw material and other costs will not escalate as rapidly as in 1970 and that it will be possible to close some of the inflationary gap between costs and prices."

Granite City Steel Company produces plate, hot and cold rolled sheet, galvanized sheet and other flat-rolled steel products. The company supplies manufacturers and other steel users in a regional market which covers much of the Midwest, South and Southwest. Plant and main offices are in Granite City.
